LET'S PLAY! .....

Home entertainment is not just about media—it often involves recreation, as well. “Parents want to know where their kids are, and feel confident that they are safe,” says Debbie Groshek, director of marketing for Brunswick Billiards. “Home entertainment and recreation will make your home the place where kids and their friends will want to hang out.”

When designing a game room, Groshek advises making sure you allow enough space to enjoy the products you put in the room. To help with the design, Brunswick Billiards’ Web site, www.brunswickbilliards.com, offers a game room planner that allows you to visualize how game room products will lay out in your room.

Theme Rooms

According to Becky Jones from BARSandBOOTHs.com Inc. in Charles Town, W. Va., “The modern American family is trying to create spaces for themselves and for their children that will provide entertainment at home, keeping families close and safe. The ice cream/malt shop or soda shop theme is very popular with families today.”

“Many of the rooms that we help create will include a bar, diner booths, metal-edged laminate tables and chrome chairs,” Jones says. “Some nice, vintage machines are a great addition to any ‘50s room if space and budget permit. With a little imagination, the possibilities are endless!”

HAVE A SEAT .....

One of the most critical elements to any home entertainment or recreation area is seating—which is why there are so many great chair choices.
